About

THE BIG BOOK OF
QUEER BUSINESS

Happy Pride Month! Welcome to the first-ever Big Book of Queer Business—our guide to hundreds of queer-owned brands and businesses.

If you are looking for a way to counter big corporate Rainbow Capitalism run amok, we've got you covered.

From accessories to art, from beauty to books, from swimwear to sexy time, there is something here for all interests, tastes, and budgets.

We celebrate queer entrepreneurship 365 days a year at Queerency, and we hope the businesses highlighted herein will garner your support this Pride Month and beyond.

Important Notes:

1. Purchase with Patience. The COVID-19 pandemic has caused supply chain shortages and shipping delays for companies worldwide, and this is especially true for many queer- and minority-owned small businesses. Many brands in this guide provide specific order deadlines on their websites. Pay close attention to those dates and refer to each respective brand for guidance. Please be patient and lead with love when ordering from these small queer-owned brands.

2. Embrace Intersectionality. All brands listed are founded, owned, and/or led by queer people. Throughout the guide we've also highlighted the intersectional identities of some business owners to make it easy for you to invest in queer people who belong to multiple marginalized communities.*

KEY

- A Asian-Owned
- AB Arab-Owned
- B Black-Owned
- D Disabled-Owned
- IM Immigrant-Owned
- L Latinx-Owned
- N Native-Owned
- NB Non-Binary-Owned
- T Trans-Owned
- W Woman-Owned
- 2S Two-Spirit Owned

*We did as much research as possible on each brand/person and have highlighted any intersectional identities that they indicated. The identities highlighted—like the Big Book of Queer Business itself—are not all-encompassing and some people may have other identities that are not listed.

FROM BEST FRIENDS TO BOYFRIENDS TO BUSINESS PARTNERS

Sergio Aragon (he/him) & Jesus Gutierrez (he/him) are best friends turned boyfriends turned business partners! Jesus and Sergio are the founders of Gay Pride Apparel, a first generation Mexican-American & LGBTQ+ owned brand focused on empowerment, pride, and authenticity for year-round pride. The company makes high-quality products for all identities and has been trusted with over 16,000 orders in their two short years of existence.

We spoke to Sergio and Jesus in February and they shared why they started Gay Pride Apparel, how their extensive personal history makes them great business partners, and more.

BLACK QUEER TAROT IMAGINES A WORLD WHERE BLACK QUEER PEOPLE THRIVE

Created by Harlem-based multimedia artist Kendrick Daye, Black Queer Tarot remakes the traditional Tarot arcana with a diverse cast of muses that centers Black queer people who are not just living, but thriving. The deck includes 78 larger than standard cards printed on premium card stock, original photography and collage work centering Black queer people, and an optional hardcover companion guidebook.

We recently spoke to Kendrick Daye about the inspiration behind the deck, what he learned during the process of making it, and his vision for a Black queer future.

ASATA & VICTUS: BESTIES TURNED BUSINESS PARTNERS

What happens when two besties launch a beauty business in the middle of a pandemic? The result is AxV Beauty: a natural skincare and wellness brand that was founded on the notion that healthy skin doesn't have to be perfect skin. Best friends and founders Asata Evans (she/her) and Victus Rose (he/him) launched the brand in 2020 and have quickly cultivated a community of skincare enthusiasts who embrace the occasional blemish and are charged with normalizing textured, melanin-rich skin.

Victus, a queer Black man, and Asata, a Black woman and ally of the LGBTQ+ community, tell us how they learned to adapt to “friend languages” in business, what advice they have for other besties looking to become business partners, and more.

SUMMER READING RECOMMENDATIONS FROM UNDER THE UMBRELLA BOOKSTORE

Under the Umbrella Bookstore is an upcoming community bookstore serving the LGBTQIA+ community in Salt Lake City, Utah. It will provide a safe space for queer folks of all ages to congregate. We share queer stories from around the world and highlight the talents and insights of local and international members of this community.

We asked Under the Umbrella Owner Kaitlyn Mahoney (she/they) to offer recommendations for some of the best queer books to get lost in this summer. You can support both the authors and Under the Umbrella by purchasing the books from Under the Umbrella's Bookshop.org bookstore.

Keep reading for descriptions of Kaitlyn's recommendations below.

Books

This exciting and groundbreaking fiction anthology showcases a number of new and emerging 2SQ (Two-Spirit and queer Indigenous) writers from across Turtle Island. These visionary authors show how queer Indigenous communities can bloom and thrive through utopian narratives that detail the vivacity and strength of 2SQness throughout its plight in the maw of settler colonialism's histories.

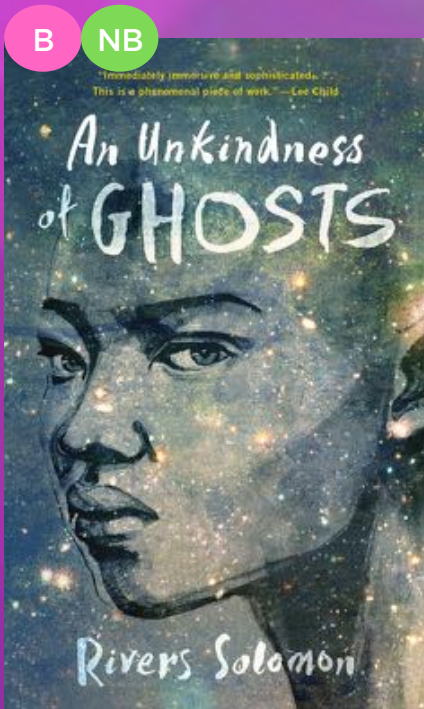

With her newly completed PhD in astronomy in hand, 28-year-old Grace Porter goes on a girls' trip to Vegas to celebrate. She's a straight A, work-through-the-summer certified high achiever. She is not the kind of person who goes to Vegas and gets drunkenly married to a woman whose name she doesn't know...until she does exactly that.

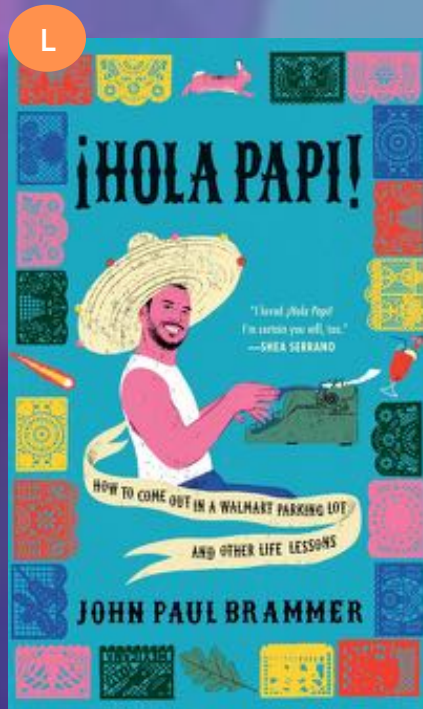

A stunning novel about a mixed-race teen who struggles to find her way back to her love of music in the wake of her sister's death. Aching, powerful, and unflinchingly honest, Summer Bird Blue explores big truths about insurmountable grief, unconditional love, and how to forgive even when it feels impossible.

Books

Aster lives in the lowdeck slums of the HSS Matilda, a space vessel organized much like the antebellum South. For generations, Matilda has ferried the last of humanity to a mythical Promised Land. On its way, the ship's leaders have imposed harsh moral restrictions and deep indignities on dark-skinned sharecroppers like Aster. Embroiled in a grudge with a brutal overseer, Aster learns there may be a way to improve her lot--if she's willing to sow the seeds of civil war.

With wit and wisdom in equal measure, ¡Hola Papi! is for anyone--gay, straight, and everything in between--who has ever taken stock of their unique place in the world, offering considered advice, intelligent discourse, and fits of laughter along the way.

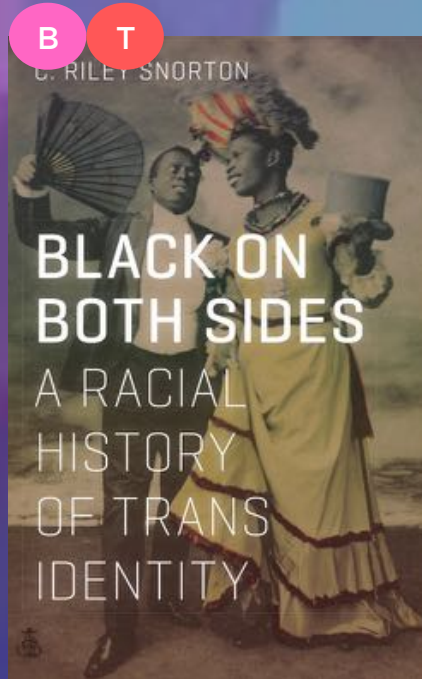

One in five people in the United States lives with a disability. Some disabilities are visible, others less apparent--but all are underrepresented in media and popular culture. Now, just in time for the thirtieth anniversary of the Americans with Disabilities Act, activist Alice Wong brings together this urgent, galvanizing collection of contemporary essays by disabled people.

Books

Crossfire collects Staceyann Chin's empowering, feminist-LGBTQ-Caribbean, activist-driven poetry for the first time in a single book.

Drawing on a deep and varied archive of materials--early sexological texts, fugitive slave narratives, Afro-modernist literature, sensationalist journalism, Hollywood films--Snorton attends to how slavery and the production of racialized gender provided the foundations for an understanding of gender as mutable.

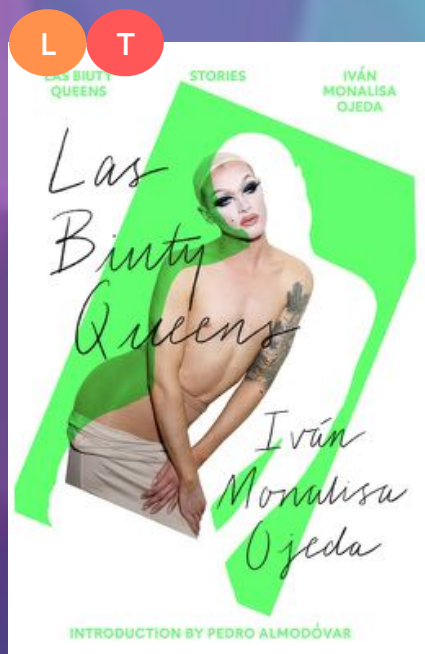

An enthralling, romantic novel spanning time and space about two time-traveling rivals who fall in love and must change the past to ensure their future.

Books

This book offers step-by-step instructions for everything from how to hold a meeting to how to envision an action and wrangle the press-expertise gleaned from Avengers working in journalism, advertising, art, and theater, as well as long-time activists who honed their skills protesting the Viet Nam war, the abuse of farmworkers, forced sterilization of women of color, and bans on abortion, and who'd already, in some cases, led civil disobedience in ACT-UP.

In this acclaimed story collection, Chilean transgender performer and author Iván Monalisa Ojeda delivers an irreverent, honest and full-throated love song to New York City from the perspective of a group of trans Latinx immigrant friends who walk the streets, get high, compete in beauty contests, look for clients on their impossibly high heels, and fall prey to increasingly cruel immigration policies.

In The Kinfolk Entrepreneur, author Nathan Williams introduces readers to 40 creative business owners around the globe, offering an inspiring, in-depth look behind the scenes of their lives and their companies.

SVEN & AMANDA: FOODIES AND FIANCÉS

Amanda (she/her) and Sven (they/them) are foodies and fiancés who co-create on some projects while exploring their own individual ventures.

Amanda is the host of “A Guide to Being a Happy, Healthy Hoe,” a sex-positive podcast that takes listeners on a journey of dissecting, reinventing, and owning hoe culture. She also chronicles her baking escapades on her foodie Instagram page Citrus Slut. Sven is a realtor, chef, and founder of Queer Kitchen, an organization dedicated to building queer community and green spaces through food, creativity and collaboration. Last November, they collaborated on a Queer Friendsgiving live cooking event, and this summer, the couple is planning a goodies box for the NY/NJ area that will blend their love of kush, food, and pleasure.

We spoke to Sven and Amanda about what working together has taught them about trust, control, individuality, and more.

DAYLIGHT IS THE FIRST DIGITAL BANK BUILT FOR LGBT+ PEOPLE, BY LGBT+ PEOPLE

The LGBTQ+ community has an estimated $1 trillion purchasing power, but we also face unique financial hurdles. From housing to healthcare to paying a whopping $86 million more in banking fees than our non-queer counterparts, LGBT+ people face financial discrimination and are disproportionately affected by economic downturns such as the one caused by the coronavirus pandemic.

Enter Daylight: a new banking platform that aims to help LGBT+ people manage our finances and prepare for the future. As the first and only digital banking platform in the U.S. specifically designed for the LGBT+ community by the LGBT+ community, Daylight helps queer people navigate the financial system based on our specific needs.

We spoke with co-founder and chief of staff Billie Simmons (she/her) about her journey to Daylight and their team's vision for the company.

HOW TO SELL PRODUCTS IN ALL 50 STATES IN ONLY 11 MONTHS

Queers love candles; and to say that the queer-owned candle market is saturated would be the understatement of the year. But Jesse Regis (he/him) the founder of Virgins on Fire Candle Co. has cracked the candle-selling code. In less than one year—and in the middle of a pandemic—he was able to sell candles in every state in the U.S. as well as D.C., Puerto Rico, Canada, France, Italy, Belgium, and Switzerland.

We talked to him on the evening of Virgin on Fire's first birthday to learn how he accomplished such a great feat, what led him to candle-making, his vision for the future, and more.

THE BLACK QUEER WOMAN DISRUPTING SEX TECH

The sex tech industry is ripe for disruption. Over the past century, there has been very little innovation—and even less diversity—from sex toy companies. But one Black queer visionary is here to change that.

Glenise Kinard-Moore (she/her) is the CEO and Founder of Skiimoo Tech, a research, science, technology and engineering firm based in Atlanta. The company's premier product is The VDOM™, the first app-connected genital device that can go from flaccid to erect at the push of a button on your smartphone or smart watch. Hitting the market this spring, launching this summer, the VDOM™ is poised to revolutionize the sex tech industry by offering a cutting-edge alternative to the traditional strap-on.

We spoke to Kinard-Moore, about how The VDOM™ came to be, her long-term vision for the company, and her advice for other Black/queer/women tech founders.

BRINGING LUXURY TO MEN'S LINGERIE

Men's lingerie is having a moment. From affordable, established brands like Andrew Christian to high-end offerings like Exterface, queer-owned companies have been innovators in men's intimate apparel for years. More recently, mainstream companies are finally catching up and offering options for men beyond tighty whities and ill-fitting boxers. But a new generation of queer-owned niche brands remain at the forefront of the men's lingerie movement.

One of the latest and most exciting entrants to this space is SDL Intimates, a luxurious new line of men's lingerie by London-based designer Samuel Lucas (he/him).

On Valentine's Day, we spoke with Lucas about his vision for the brand, the space it occupies in the market, and why we should celebrate the mainstreaming of men's lingerie.

HOW THE QUEER GYM GREW 200% DURING COVID

The gym can be an intimidating place for anyone, but it can be especially unwelcoming for queer and gender non-conforming people. Coach Nathalie Huerta (she/her/ella) experienced this first hand while serving as a personal trainer at a regular gym, so she decided to do something about it. In 2010, she launched The Queer Gym, the first gym in the United States built specifically for queer people.

Last year, during the peak of the COVID-19 pandemic, she and her team celebrated ten years in business and transitioned to a 100% online fitness company. While many gyms suffered, The Queer Gym grew their client base by more than 200% and quadrupled their number of employees.

We spoke with Coach Nat about how she did that, the future of fitness, how to maintain a fitness routine, and why motivation alone won't help you reach your goals.
